Meeting the People Who Make Lives Better

What's your perfect weekend?

My perfect weekend would have to be a cosy one, curled up in the front room in front of the fire with a book after a lovely morning walk with my two dogs Lady and Lola.

Describe a moment in your current role that made you feel especially proud.

A moment that made me reflect positively since starting this role at Alice Ingham was organising and pulling off the school's Summer Fair. I worked closely with staff to make sure everything was organised and everyone knew where they should be. Seeing the children so excited and the event run successfully was a rewarding moment. It reminded me that being part of the office team does have a big impact on creating positive and memorable experiences for our children and their families.

What's something surprising about your job that most people wouldn't know?

Something surprising about my job that most people wouldn't know is how much goes on behind the scenes to keep a school running smoothly.

If you could swap roles with anyone in the Trust for a day, who would it be and what would you hope to learn?

I feel that I would like to see other schools in our Trust and how my role looks in other settings- to gain more knowledge and share ideas.

Do you have a favourite place you love to visit again and again?

I love to visit the Lake District- My favourite place to go there is Lake Buttermere, a gorgeous place I would highly recommend to anyone!

In one sentence, how would you sum up what "Making Lives Better" means to you?

Making lives better means using kindness, patience, and care to make someone's day a little easier or happier- in our school (and I am sure many others too) you never know what children have been through before they reach our doors. Every day we are here with a smile on our face showing love and support to those around us we are helping to make the lives of others better.

Which book, TV show or film do you recommend to everyone?

Oooh this is a difficult one! My all time favourite TV series would be Gilmore Girls. I would recommend the Housemaid series of books by Freida McFadden (or anything written by her or Lisa Jewell)

What's one thing on your bucket list you still hope to tick off?

I don't have a traditional bucket list, but I do try to focus on enjoying new experiences and taking opportunities as they come.

We hope you have enjoyed learning about a member of our Trust family who works so hard to Make Lives Matter. If you would like the opportunity to work with people like this, please visit our Trust website to learn more.
