Meeting the People Who Make Lives Better

What's your perfect weekend?

Meeting up with the girls on a Saturday and taking my dog on a walk on Sundays. Nelly, my dog, is everything to me.

Describe a moment in your current role that made you feel especially proud.

Getting to know things and doing things quicker than I thought, I thought I would struggle more than I am and it makes me really proud. that I am learning so many different processes and systems.

What's something surprising about your job that most people wouldn't know?

How much goes in to building relationships with suppliers. I don't think people realise how much you have to do.

If you could swap roles with anyone in the Trust for a day, who would it be and what would you hope to learn?

Majid, Procurement Manager, so I can get an in-depth insight into procurement and really see everything he does day in and day out.

What do you think makes our Trust a unique place to work or learn?

I think it is great working in education as you really get to see everything that goes on behind the scenes of schools. I went to a STOC high school, so it is really great learn how much work goes into running a school. and being part of this.

Do you have a favourite place you love to visit again and again?

Greece – I have been 3 times to different places. I would move there if I could.

In one sentence, how would you sum up what "Making Lives Better" means to you?

I think it means helping people and being able to improve their lives.

If you could instantly learn a new skill to use in your role, what would it be?

I would love to know how to use Connect so that I can use this fully in my role.

Which book, TV show or film do you recommend to everyone?

Gossip Girl – it's my favourite show, I love that it is like a dream life, being rich in New York.

What's one thing on your bucket list you still hope to tick off?

Being able to go to Japan. I have always wanted to go there since I was a child and would love to go with my dad

We hope you have enjoyed learning about a member of our Trust family who works so hard to Make Lives Matter. If you would like the opportunity to work with people like this, please visit our Trust website to learn more.
