Meeting the People Who Make Lives Better

What's your perfect weekend?

I like to go for a walk and relax after my week. I like to watch tv and play video games such as Marvel Rivals.

Describe a moment in your current role that made you feel especially proud.

A moment that made me proud, is figuring out how to do the Arbor reports, it was mainly self-taught, and I figured out how to code this, and I do this every week now. Being able to do something I am not used to is really exciting.

What's something surprising about your job that most people wouldn't know?

Most would just think you are at your desk, but it is a really fun experience as you get to communicate with team members, take part in different meetings and collaborate with others.

If you could swap roles with anyone in the Trust for a day, who would it be and what would you hope to learn?

I'd like to switch with a member of the procurement team as I would like to learn their role and see more of how it fits in with the finance work I am doing.

What do you think makes our Trust a unique place to work or learn?

The amount of people that we accommodate for, we are expanding and growing and we look after a lot of people which brings a lot of responsibility.

What's one thing on your bucket list you still hope to tick off?

Run a half marathon at some point and get a medal.

Do you have a favourite place you love to visit again and again?

My favourite spot would be the roundabout in Brightmet, as I love to do 10k steps a day and I know I am halfway there when I get there.

In one sentence, how would you sum up what "Making Lives Better" means to you?

Making lives better is making sure that everyone involved has a good lifestyle and basic essentials of food shelter and warmth but also are happy. There is no life if you are not happy.

If you could instantly learn a new skill to use in your role, what would it be?

Infinite memory – so I could remember everything I had done, this would make my work a lot easier and mean I don't have to keep looking at different documents.

Which book, TV show or film do you recommend to everyone?

Jingle All the Way this is a great Christmas film – it is so fun and coming up to Christmas I think it is something everyone should watch!

We hope you have enjoyed learning about a member of our Trust family who works so hard to Make Lives Matter. If you would like the opportunity to work with people like this, please visit our Trust website to learn more.
