Meeting the People Who Make Lives Better

What's your perfect weekend?

Spending time with my daughter, swimming, shopping and watching films!

Describe a moment in your current role that made you feel especially proud.

In my role I oversee communication and our Social Media strategy. This has given me the opportunity to see all of the amazing work that goes on in our schools every day. I feel especially proud to be a part of such a mission based organisation where the focus is always on our young people.

What's something surprising about your job that most people wouldn't know?

As the lead for conversion, I am fortunate enough to be able to visit lots of the schools in our Trust footprint. This gives me the chance to meet Governors, Headteachers, Staff and Children and fully appreciate what goes on across our Diocese.

If you could swap roles with anyone in the Trust for a day, who would it be and what would you hope to learn?

It would be lovely to be an early years teacher for the day. As a secondary teacher, working with primary schools across our Trust for the first time has opened my eyes to the skill and dedication of those who support our smallest children.

What's one thing on your bucket list you still hope to tick off?

My bucket list revolves around my daughter – I can't wait to take her to Disneyland!

Do you have a favourite place you love to visit again and again?

I love to visit St. Andrews in Scotland, walking along the coast to clear my head.

In one sentence, how would you sum up what "Making Lives Better" means to you?

Ensuring all our young people have an equitable educational experience, showing them what is possible and what they can be.

Which book, TV show or film do you recommend to everyone?

I really enjoy watching the West Wing – its well written and it makes me laugh.

What do you think makes our Trust a unique place to work or learn?

As a teacher I was able to work in one school to try and make a difference. What is unique about my current role is the opportunity to provide the best possible service across multiple schools. I am privileged to lead services that ensure all children regardless of their context or where they were born have access to the best we can offer.

We hope you have enjoyed learning about a member of our Trust family who works so hard to Make Lives Matter. If you would like the opportunity to work with people like this, please visit our Trust website to learn more.
